Students Will Hear Music Faculty Recital at Friday's Assembly

In keeping with a College tradition, the Division of Music will again this year present its faculty in a music recital for the regular assembly on Friday, October 14, 10 a. m., in the College auditorium.

Featuring a variety of musical numbers representing several periods in the history of music, the program will include selections by Mr. &

Mr. Whitney's numbers will include "Invictus" by Huhn and "The Wreck of the 'Julie Plan'" by O'Hara.

Mr. Sandford, accompanied by Mrs. Sandford, will play Maurice Strakosky's "Allemanda" and Paul Hahn's "Sephardic Melody."

Mr. Smay, accompanied by Mrs. Smay, will play "Prelude, Aria e Scherzo" by Beethoven and "The Little White Duck" by Schubert.

At the College organ, Mr. Krapf will present a Prelude and Fugue in the Dorian mode on G by Buxtehude.

Mercer Will Bring Carroll Orchestra Here for Big Dance

One of the highlights of Homecoming each year is the Homecoming Dance. This year, music for the dance will be provided by the David Carroll orchestra.

As highlights of the program, the orchestra, conducted by singing star Jerry Mercer, will play their Mercury hits "Melody of Love," "Fancy Pants," "In a Little Spanish Town," and "Buck Dance."

The David Carroll orchestra was organized by David Carroll, musical director for the Mercury Recording Company. Since it was first organized, the orchestra has produced a number of good recordings and has played in many of the better-known ballrooms in the Midwest.

Fulsom Will Direct 'Dark of the Moon'

The speech and drama department of the College, under the direction of Mr. R. E. Fulsom, has begun practice on the play "Dark of the Moon," by Howard Richardson and William Berney.

This play, which is based on the folk ballad "Barbara Allen," will have comedy, drama, singing, and dancing included in it.

It is to be produced on Monday and Tuesday, November 21 and 22, in the College auditorium.

Casting for the play has been completed according to Mr. Fulsom. Members of the cast are Elbert Blair as John; Bob Sanders as the Conjur Man; Nancy Worley as Lista, the fair witch; Marsha Creason as Cromia, the dark (Continued on Page Two)

Deadlines Are Near For Contest Entries

Time has come for all campus organizations to be completing plans and submitting entries for the various homecoming events according to Dr. John Harr, faculty chairman, and Wayne Boydston, student chairman, of the Homecoming Committee.

March by Mr. Moss Will Be Premiered By U. S. Navy Band

Mr. Earle I. Moss, faculty member of the Division of Music, has composed a selection for band entitled the "Golden Anniversary March" in keeping with the College's 50th anniversary celebration.

Students will have the opportunity to hear this march for the first time when it is introduced by the United States Navy Band, October 31.

Two matinees and an evening concert will be presented by the band in the College auditorium. Students and faculty members who have obtained reserved seat tickets with their activity cards will be admitted to the two o'clock matinee. The evening performance is scheduled to begin at 8:15 p. m.; tickets cost $1.25.

President Calvin Coolidge, on his Inauguration Day, March 4, 1925, signed a special act of Congress designating the Washington Navy Yard band as the official United States Navy Band. In the fall of 1925, the Navy Band made its first annual tour. Except for the years of World War II, the Navy Band has been continually making these annual tours.

Commander Charles Brendler, who has conducted the band since 1941, was the first Navy musician to attain the rank of Lieutenant Commander in the regular navy and now holds the permanent rank of full commander, by special act of Congress, 1953. He has conducted the band before audiences throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska, Puerto Rico, Panama, Jamaica, Haiti, and the Virgin Islands.

Rehearsals for the Variety Show will begin in the College auditorium about October 14. Watch for posted notices.

Float ideas and themes should be turned in to Mr. Howard Ringgold at the Industrial Arts building by October 14. The expense limit for floats is $35. Floats may be entered in two classes—beauty and humor. This year the floats will also be in three sections in the parade—Past, Present, and Future. Organizations should indicate which section and class they wish to enter.

Addresses of houses to be decorated should be turned in to Dr. Harr's office, room 326, by 4 p. m. on Friday, October 21. Not more than $15 may be spent on house decorations.

This year the Maryville Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a window decoration contest. Names of stores in which windows are going to be decorated should also be registered with Dr. John Harr, room 326.

Nominations for Homecoming Queen candidates can be made by male organizations, mixed groups, or groups of twenty-five or more persons. Freshman girls are not eligible to compete. Nominations should be turned in to the Student Senate, box 38, Wednesday, October 19.

Any organization or individual who needs more information concerning the various Homecoming activities should contact a committee member or Dr. Harr.

Notice

Anyone interested in watching or participating in the College model plane flying meets is invited to do so. These meets are held every weekend when the weather makes it possible. Come when you hear the motors running at the field south of Horace Mann.

Forty-Eight Years Ago Today

Forty-eight years ago today, October 12, 1907, the cornerstone of the Administration building was laid. A crowd of people estimated at from 15,000 to 30,000 witnessed the impressive ceremony.

At 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon a procession started from down town to the campus. W. J. Staples, on a white horse, followed by the town band, led the procession. Then came the two Masonic lodges of Maryville followed by visiting Masons—all in their "handsome uniforms and fine feathers," according to a local newspaper—and many marching citizens of Northwest Missouri.

Another procession, which had formed at the president's home, met them at the site of the ceremony. In this procession were Governor Joseph W. Folk, whose signature had assured the school for Northwest Missouri, former Governor A. M. Dockery, Congressman Joshua Alexander, Congressman C. F. Booher, Howard A. Gass, state superintendent of schools, and other distinguished visitors, all escorted by students and members of the faculty. The converging processions were met at the site by a large crowd of people who had gathered to witness the laying of the cornerstone.

The program began with an invocation by the Rev. C. M. Chilton, now retired minister of the First Christian church in St. Joseph, and the singing of "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," led by the student choir. Governor Folk gave the address of the afternoon.

Following the address, the Masons performed the rites of the laying of the stone, with former Governor Dockery, Past Grand Master of the Masonic order in the state of Missouri, as master of ceremonies. The ceremony was long and impressive, particularly the presenting of the emblems of consecration—corn, the emblem of plenty, was sprinkled on the stone, and wine, the emblem of joy and gladness, and oil, the emblem of peace, were poured on it.

Concluding the ceremony when the stone had been laid and consecrated, the Past Grand Master of the Masons said, "We are assembled here today, in face of you all, to build a house, which we pray God may deserve to prosper, by becoming a place of course for good men and promoting harmony and brotherly love throughout the world, till time shall be no more."

And the assembled crowd said in heart, if not in voice, with the Masons, "So mote it be."

Senior Class Elects Smith as President

Officers elected to lead in the activities of this year's Senior Class are Robert Smith, president; Donald Warford vice-president; and Barbara Stuber, secretary-treasurer.

Receipts from the concession at the Fort Hays-Maryville football game will go into funds to be used for the class gift.

About These Beards . . .

Men! . . . Are you helping celebrate the Golden Anniversary? Are you wearing a beard? or . . . do you have a shaver's permit?

The student committee on Anniversary activities recently established rules concerning the growing of beards by all male members of the campus community. These rules were not designed to "force" any person into doing something he would rather not do, but merely to provide an atmosphere of celebration about the campus at the start of this 50th year.

Your editor himself did not want to grow a beard, but he cheerfully purchased a permit with a one dollar donation to the Student Loan Fund.

It would really be great if all you men on the campus would participate in the activity by either growing a beard or buying a permit—not because you "have to" but because you want the whole campus to know that you're celebrating a Golden Anniversary.

Support the Loan Fund . . .

In this day and age when living expenses are so high, even going to a state-supported school can be quite a pull on the pocketbook. Coming up next week, however, is a chance for every person in the College community to make going to school a little bit easier for some student.

The event is the Tivoli Theater's Annual Benefit Show for the Student Loan Fund.

Each year the owner of the theater donates all the proceeds from five showings of a motion picture to the Loan Fund. This year the picture "The Great Gilbert and Sullivan" will be featured next week.

Under the direction of Dr. Sterling Surrey, the Student Loan Fund lends money without interest to qualified students who are in need of temporary financial assistance in order to continue their schooling. During the past six years more than 1020 students have borrowed more than $70,000 from the Fund.

Money for the fund is obtained from donations such as the one to be made by the Tivoli Theater owners. So you see that by paying only fifty cents you can see a good movie and provide some worthy student with financial aid for his education.

Remember, if you can go to only one movie next week, go on Wednesday or Thursday.

They're Talking About . . .

PEOPLE ARE TALKING ABOUT . . . Homecoming . . . and the speed with which the committees will have to work before the big celebration October 27, 28 and 29 . . . the Variety Show and the fact that reservations should be made early with Mr. Everett Brown in the Field Service Office . . . the organizational functions to be given for Homecoming alumni and the fact that all reservations for them should be made even earlier (by October 24) in the aforementioned office.

PEOPLE ARE TALKING ABOUT . . . the Homecoming Parade and the beauty of the floats designed by students of former years . . . the Homecoming Football Game and the chances of beating Rolla on Saturday afternoon, October 29, in Memorial Stadium . . . the Homecoming Dance to be held in the Gymnasium that night, featuring the popular David Carroll Band.

PEOPLE ARE TALKING ABOUT . . . the surprise birthday salute given by the College Band and the crowd at the Maryville-Fort Hays football game, honoring the College president, Dr. J. W. Jones . . . the large attendance at the Brownell lecture during the 38th annual meeting of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association last week . . . and they're talking about the lack of space even in the halls during the successful two-day meet.

PEOPLE ARE TALKING ABOUT . . . the history of the College which is being written by Miss Mattie Dykes of the English department and the fact that it will be $3.00 a copy. And those who send checks or money to the Field Service Office before November 1 will have their names printed in the books as subscribers . . . the new Northwest Missouri State College Scholarship Fund and the importance it may have in the lives of worthy students who want the benefits of a college education . . . the U. S. Navy Band and its welcome return scheduled for Monday, October 31.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Highlights from College Heights

Recently the population of College Heights was increased by one. On September 21, the Donald Robertsons became the proud parents of a baby girl, Regina Kay, weighing 8½ pounds.

This little community, located north of the Administration building, now has the total population of 124. Twelve new families have recently moved in.

"We decided to give visitors something to look at," explained Mrs. Jack Spence when someone inquired about the variety of bright colored chimneys in the eastern part of the village. And visitors do look.

Many families have returned to school this fall after spending the summer in far-away places. The Dick Wilburs and the Jack Spences spent several weeks in California. The Myron Mocks went to Mexico City. The mother of Mrs. Mock came up from Panama and returned with them to Maryville for a short visit.

THE STROLLER

It's so high you can't go over it; so low you can't get under it; so wide you can't go around it. What is it? Why, it's the Stroller. Who else could it be?

Say, the girls can really have a grand time around the campus this year. Last week's paper revealed that there are eleven fellows for every six girls. That's a pretty good ratio as far as the women are concerned, but it makes it rather difficult for the men.

Dr. Sterling Surrey reports that the sale of beard licenses has netted the Student Loan Fund more than $100 so far. That's good, and if every one of the girls does as well in the old-fashioned dress project as the fellows in the beard growing assignments, the old campus will really take on a "new look."

Incidentally, speaking of the beard permits, the Stroller has learned that Dr. W. A. Brandenburg, dean of the faculty, purchased the 100th license. It seems that the committee would not accept his mustache because he has been wearing it for years. They did, however, allow him a 5 per cent discount and charged him only 95 cents.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Walkout Day, 1915

Students who participate in Walkout Day activity in 1955 may not know that the tradition started on the campus just forty years ago. On Friday, October 22, 1915, the first walkout took place.

On Thursday night, two literary societies, the Philomatheans and the Eurekaans, met for their weekly programs. A group of young men students previously decided amongst themselves that the fine October weather was being wasted if the school could not have a picnic—the faculty seemed not to have noticed the excellent picnic weather. Some of the young men belonged to one society, some to the other. They spread their notions, and the society voted to have a walkout the next day. Each was to spread the news to other students but to say nothing to any faculty member.

Friday morning came. The signal was given, and 208 of about three hundred enrolled walked out. They stopped in the lower corridor only long enough for everybody to be informed as to what was happening and where they were going; then they started down the Long Walk, singing the school songs and giving the school yells.

The astonished faculty members were left gasping. Somebody got word to the president, who was at his home eating breakfast. He left his food, dashed out of the house, and met the students. He thought it was an insurrection and remonstrated with them. But, the students, on picnic bent, gave him the laugh and a cheer for Prexy, and went right on, down through the main part of town, and out to Atherton's Woods, east of town.

Once the walkout was accomplished, the students began to think about what the consequences would be. They held a business meeting, elected John Doe as president and Sarah Doe as secretary and voted that they would all stand together, come what might. Then they appointed two committees: a foods committee to go back to town and buy food for the group and a committee to go back to invite the faculty and the president to come out to the woods for the picnic. The faculty accepted the invitation; the president politely refused. The foods committee provided 70 loaves of bread, 20 pounds of wieners, 3 gallons of pickles, 19 dozen doughnuts, 18 dozen cookies, 3 bushels of apples, and 20 gallons of cider—and everyone helped pay the bill.

The whole day was spent in the woods. After the lunch around a big bonfire, everybody took part in games or wandered around in the beautiful woods. Students and faculty alike pronounced the day a success.

Something happened though to annoy the president more than he was already annoyed. The students of the Maryville High School, learning that the Normal School students walked out, staged a walkout of their own. The evening paper carried a headline which said something about the force of a bad example. The president did not like that.

The next morning, the president called into his office four boys whom he suspected as having been leaders—and his guess was almost right. He told them his side of the story, and they told him theirs. Finally they came to an agreement—the students might each year have a picnic on some fall day, provided they would let the president know ahead when it was to be so that it would not conflict with some special school affair.

Every year, then, from 1915 to 1954 (and probably 1955) the students have had Walkout Day. Its character has changed with the years. At first the students actually walked out—they did not stop downtown but went to the woods for a day of self-directed fun. They paid 35 cents for their food, which the Senior class provided. In the thirties, the custom of having the college kitchen supply the food began, and the College Park became the place to serve the food. A picture show and then a dance took the place of the picnic. Management of the day went into the hands of the Student Council, as it was called then. When initiation of freshmen came into the picture, some big huskies seemed to be needed; thus the M Club members were summoned to take over, and Kangaroo court precedes the walkout.

Alumnus Gets AEC Post

Donald A. McKown, class of 1954, has been employed by the Atomic Energy Commission to work in Los Alamos, according to Dr. Densil Cooper, of the physics department.

When Mr. McKown received his degree in physics here, he was granted a fellowship in radiological physics to be used in one of three colleges: Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee; University of Washington, Seattle; or Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York.

He chose Vanderbilt and has completed his academic year there, including three months in laboratory research.

These Six Seniors Will Give It The "Never Say Die" Treatment When They Meet Kirksville

Above are the six seniors who will be playing their last season for the Bearcats. These men will be sorely missed when the season opens next year. All six are line-men for Coach Ryland Milner. Pictured left to right are Ed Messbarger, St. Joseph;

Don Schenkel, Maryville; Bill Cain, Thurman, Iowa; Dale Hague, Maryville; Ron Wray, Maryville; Dick Wogan, St. Joseph. All of these men are majoring in physical education except Wray, and he has an industrial arts major.

Bearcats to Face Tough Kirksville

Once again, the Bearcats will be faced with a heavy team when they invade the Kirksville Bulldogs at Stokes Stadium in Kirksville. Game time will be 8:30 p. m., October 15.

This week the Bearcats have embarked on another week of drills with the emphasis on pass defense in preparation for their second conference football game.

Although the 'Cats played a rough and hard game against the Cape Indians, they were lucky to come out of the game without any serious injuries.

Dick Flanagan, sophomore tackle, is out for the remainder of this season with a broken arm. Dick's absence in the line-up will be sorely missed by Coach Milner's 'Cats. On the brighter side of the Bearcat outlook, Bill Cain, 210-pound senior end, is showing signs of coming out of a bad leg injury.

"Kirksville has won the MIAA championship for the last two years and they look like champions again unless someone defeats them," commented Coach Ryland Milner. A few weeks back, the Bulldogs defeated the power team from Pittsburg, Kansas.

The 'Cats have been looking good in blocking, defensive work, and passing has been on the upgrade. Halfbacks Mel Gibson and Mickey Mallen displayed plenty of speed in the Fort Hays game. The Bearcat line also played rugged ball, but a larger and more experienced Hays aggregation wore them down.

Last year, the Bearcats lost a heart breaker to the Bulldogs. The Kirksville team cashed in on a desperation pass to score the deciding marker, with five minutes left in the final stanza to win 24-20.

With the traditional "Hickory Stick" at stake this Saturday night, let's all try to make it to Kirksville and help the 'Cats bring the stick to NWMSC!

Cape Exhibits Power With Balanced Play; Bearcats Lose, 31-6

A listless Bearcat first team was unable to get into gear Saturday night at Memorial Stadium and a visiting Cape Girardeau team ran over them 31-6 in the first 1955 conference tilt for both teams.

The Cape Indians started their drive as soon as the whistle blew. Maryville kicked off to a Cape player on his own 10. He ran the ball back to the 35.

Scores After Kickoff

Then in 12 plays the Indians sent Larry Yeargain through the center from three yards out for the first score. Yeargain also kicked the point. The whole touchdown drive of 65 yards took less than four minutes.

The Bearcats couldn't dent the defense of the Indians, so kicked to Jim Ellis on the Indians 30. He ran it back to the center stripe. In five more plays the Indians scored again with Ellis going over from the six, but the conversion failed.

The Indians took the ball and in 12 plays Yeargain heaved a pass to Ted Brennecke, halfback, to give the visitors another score. Again the conversion was no good.

McGinnis Scores Tally

There was still 30 seconds to go in the first half when Jerry McGinnis went over from the three yard line. The kick for conversion was blocked.

Neither team did much in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter the Indians' Yeargain threw a 20-yard touchdown to J. Schneider, left end, for another tally. The conversion again was nullified.

The final Cape touchdown came after Maryville lost the ball on their own 42. James Striler later took the ball on the Maryville six. There was no conversion.

Bearcats Try for Possession Of Traditional Hickory Stick

Contrary to popular belief, there are traditions about other things at the College besides the kissing bridge. One of these is the Hickory Stick. In 1926, the president of the College, Dr. Uel W. Lamkin, sent a hickory stick to President Eugene Fair, of the Kirksville College, to keep until the Bearcats won a football game from Kirksville.

Inscribed upon the stick were these words: "This stick was grown on a farm in the Maryville district upon which Eugene Fair, president of Kirksville College, was born." Following this was the record of scores.

Until 1931, Maryville was unable to gain possession of the stick, but that year the Bearcats beat the Bulldogs 7 to 0.

The next year it was again taken over by Kirksville and held until 1938, when the Bearcats came through with a favorable 26 to 7 decision. The Green and White Maryville Gridders held the stick in 1940 (20 to 0) and 1941 (22 to 6).

In 1947 the stick was reported lost; so the M Club, with the cooperation of the Industrial Arts department, made a new one. That year the 'Cats shelled Kirksville 22 to 6 and continued to hold the stick until 1951 with successive scores of 13 to 12, 27 to 20, and 13 to 13. (In a tie, the team holding the stick previously always retains possession of the stick).

In 1951 the Bearcats lacked one point to keep possession of the stick. The Bulldogs racked up 13 points to the Bearcats' 12. However, in '52 the score was 28 to 27 in favor of the Green and White.

Since that time the Bearcats have met with disaster at the hands of the 'Dogs. In '53 the score was Maryville 26-Kirksville 37; in '54 it was 24 to 20 with
